Advance Acclaim

“The present volume is an excellent example of the traditions of the Athenian Policy Forum. Collectively, the authors advance our knowledge of both the benefits and drawbacks of globalization, and also the question of its supposed inevitability.”

John Smithin
Professor, Department of Economics and
Schulich of Business York University, Toronto

“The Athenian Policy Forum has become an important vehicle for the production and dissemination of knowledge on international economic, political and social issues. The set of papers in this volume provide a very important body of thought on the economic and political aspects of globalization and trade.”
